

Nonobligated Spouse Allocation

This is a scannable form; please file original with the Tax Department.

Who Qualifies — You qualify as a nonobligated spouse if you have income (e.g., wages, interest, etc.) and prepaid taxes (e.g., withholding or estimated tax payments) that are to be reported on a joint return, or you are going to file a joint claim for the real property tax credit or file a joint return and claim the earned income credit, and you do not want to apply your part of the joint refund or real property tax credit to a debt owed solely by your spouse.

Did you receive a Notice of Claim Against your Income Tax Refund? Yes No
If yes, please attach a copy to this form.

How to File — Attach the completed Form IT-280 to the front of your original Form IT-200, IT-201, IT-203, or IT-214. We need the information on it to process your refund as quickly as possible. Once you have filed your return, you cannot file an amended return to disclaim your spouse's defaulted student loan, past-due support liability owed to the Department of Social Services or a past-due legally enforceable debt owed to a state agency. However, you will be notified if your refund is applied against your spouse's defaulted student loan, past-due support owed to the Department of Social Services or past-due legally enforceable debt owed to a state agency and you did not attach Form IT-280 to your return. You will then have ten days from the date of notification to file Form IT-280.

Complete lines 1 and 2 of this form and sign it in the space provided. If you are filing Form IT-214 and do not have to file an income tax return, fill in only your name and the social security number of both spouses and sign this form.

Form IT-100 and Electronic Filers — You cannot file Form IT-280 with Form IT-100 or with an electronically filed Form IT-201. However, if you originally filed Form IT-100 or electronically filed Form IT-201, and you are notified that your refund has been applied against your spouse's defaulted student loan, past-due support owed to the Department of Social Services or a past-due legally enforceable debt owed to a state agency, you will have ten days from the date of notification to file Form IT-280. Complete lines 1 and 2 of this form and sign it in the space provided. Enter your federal adjusted gross income on line 1. Your federal adjusted gross income on Form IT-100 is the total of lines 2, 3, 5 and 6 less line 7. Enter your New York adjustment to income on line 2. Your New York adjustment to income on Form IT-100 is the line 4 amount. If you filed your return electronically, follow the instructions below for IT-201 filers.

Line Instructions

Line 1 — Actual federal income and adjustments to income must be claimed by the taxpayer earning the income. Joint income and adjustments must be allocated as would be required if separate federal returns were filed. If you are filing Form IT-200, federal adjusted gross income is the amount shown on line 7. If you are filing either Form IT-201 or IT-203, federal adjusted gross income is the amount shown on line 18 (Form IT-203, Federal Amount column). Examples of joint income include interest, dividends and federal Schedule D sales of joint assets.

Line 2 — New York adjustments to income must be claimed by the taxpayer earning the income to which the adjustments apply. Joint New York adjustments must be allocated as would be required if separate federal returns were filed. If you are filing Form IT-200, the New York adjustment is the net amount of the additions on lines 8 and 9 and the subtractions on lines 11 and 12 (if a net subtraction, bracket the amount). If you are filing either Form IT-201 or IT-203, the New York adjustment is the net amount of the additions on lines 19 through 21 and the subtractions on lines 23 through 28 (if a net subtraction, bracket the amount).
