IT-2105.9-I

Underpayment of Estimated Income Tax by Individuals and Fiduciaries New York State • New York City • Yonkers

This form may be e-filed as an attachment to an e-filed return; you cannot e-file this form by itself.

See the instructions for your tax return for the Privacy notification or if you Need help in contacting the Tax Department.

General instructions

Note: For 2005, a penalty will not be charged for any Yonkers income tax shortage that is attributable to the 2005 increase in the Yonkers income tax surcharge rate from 5% to 10% of New York State tax (or the increase in the Yonkers nonresident earnings tax rate from .25% to .5%).

Who must pay the underpayment penalty

You may be charged a penalty if you did not pay enough estimated tax by any of the due dates or if you did not have enough New York State, New York City or Yonkers income tax withheld. This is true even if you are due a refund when you file your tax return. The penalty is figured separately for each due date. Therefore, you may owe the penalty for an earlier payment due date, even if you paid enough tax later to make up the underpayment.

In general, you may owe the penalty for 2005 if you did not pay at least the smaller of:

- 1) 90% of your 2005 tax liability; or
- 2) 100% of your 2004 tax liability (110% of that amount if you are not a farmer or a fisherman and the New York adjusted gross income shown on that return is more than $150,000 or, if married filing separately for 2005, more than $75,000).

However, if you did not file a 2004 tax return or that return did not cover all 12 months, item 2 above does not apply.

Use Part 1 to see if you prepaid enough of your required annual tax payment. If you did not, use Part 2 or Part 3 to figure the penalty.

If you checked filing status ③ on your New York State return, each spouse must figure his or her penalty on a separate Form IT-2105.9.

The penalty for each installment is figured separately. Income taxes withheld from your salary, pension, etc., are considered payments of estimated tax in equal installments on the four installment dates, unless you prove otherwise.

The penalty rates will be based upon the federal short-term interest rates, and will be adjusted quarterly. The federal short-term rate for the first month of the previous calendar quarter, rounded to the nearest whole percent, will be used to set the rates for the next succeeding calendar quarter.

Special rule for individual estimated income tax — The federal short-term rate that applies during the third month following the tax year will also apply during the first 15 days of the fourth month following the tax year.

Penalty rate — The penalty rate will be the federal short-term rate plus two percentage points, but not less than 6%. The rates from April 15, 2005, through April 15, 2006, are as follows:

- April 15 to June 30, 2005 - 7%
- July 1 to September 30, 2005 - 7%
- October 1 to December 31, 2005 - 8%
- January 1 to April 15, 2006 - 8%

Period of underpayment — The penalty is applied to the number of days that the installment was not paid. Figure the period of the underpayment by counting the number of days after the due date of the installment to and including the date of payment, the last date in the penalty rate period or the next installment due date, whichever is earlier.

Farmers and fishermen — If your federal gross income from farming or fishing is at least two-thirds of your federal gross income for 2004 or 2005, you cannot use this form. Instead, attach a copy of federal Form 2210F, Underpayment of Estimated Tax by Farmers and Fishermen, to show how you figured the penalty or which exceptions apply.

Estates and trusts — The estimated tax penalty will apply to most trusts. It will also apply to estates (and certain grantor trusts that receive the residue of the decedent's estate under the decedent's will) with respect to any tax year ending two or more years after the date of death of the decedent.

For example, if a decedent died June 30, 2005 (fiscal year fiduciary July 1 - June 30), estimated tax payments, if any, would be required beginning July 1, 2007, and installment payment is due October 15, 2007.

Exceptions to penalty — No penalty will be due if:

- 1) the tax due (after deducting tax withheld) is less than $300. If you owe two taxes (for example, New York State and New York City), no penalty is due if you owe less than $600. If you owe three taxes (New York State, New York City and Yonkers), no penalty is due if you owe less than $900; or
- 2) you did not have any New York State tax liability for the preceding tax year, the preceding tax year was a tax year of 12 months, and throughout the preceding tax year you were a New York State resident or you were a nonresident who had New York source income or a part-year resident who had New York source income. Note: If you were a nonresident or part-year resident and had no New York source income, you do not qualify for exception (2) regardless of whether or not you filed a New York tax return; or
- 3) an installment of estimated tax is due on or after an individual's death; or
- 4) the underpayment was caused by a casualty, disaster or other unusual circumstances; or
- 5) you retired in 2004 or 2005 after reaching the age of 62, or you became disabled, and the underpayment was due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect.

If you are requesting a waiver of the penalty, attach a statement to Form IT-2105.9 containing all the facts necessary to justify your request.

Fiscal-year filers — If you are filing for a fiscal year, enter the month and day your tax year began and the month, day and year that it ended in the spaces provided at the top of the front page of the form.

Name and identifying number box

Individuals — Enter in the spaces at the top of the form your name and social security number. If you filed a joint return, also enter your spouse's name.

Fiduciaries — Enter in the spaces at the top of the form the name of the estate or trust and the name of the fiduciary. Also enter the employer identification number of the estate or trust.

Filing status change — If you are filing a joint return for 2005, but you did not file a joint return for 2004, complete the Line 14 worksheet using the required amounts shown on your 2004 return and shown on your spouse's 2004 return. If you filed a joint return for 2004, but you are not filing a joint return for 2005, your 2004 tax is your share of the tax on the joint return. To figure your share, first figure the tax both you and your spouse would have paid had you filed separate returns for 2004. Then multiply your joint tax liability by the following fraction:

$$\frac{\text{Your separate tax liability}}{\text{Both spouses' separate tax liability}}$$

If you did not file a 2004 return or if your 2004 tax year was for a period of less than 12 months, do not complete line 14. Instead, enter the amount from line 11 on line 15.

If the amount on line 12 is equal to or more than the amount on line 15, you will not have to complete or attach Form IT-2105.9.

You will not have to pay a penalty or complete this form if you did not have any tax liability for 2004, and the preceding tax year was a tax year of 12 months and you were a New York State resident or you were a nonresident who had New York source income or a part-year resident who had New York source income.

Part 2 — Short method for figuring the penalty

If you paid withholding tax or four equal estimated tax installments, or both, or made no estimated tax payments for the 2005 tax year, complete lines 16 through 22 to arrive at the penalty due. Otherwise, you must use the regular method in Part 3.

Note: If any payment was made earlier than the due date, you may use the short method, but using it may cause you to pay a larger penalty than the regular method. If the payment was only a few days early, the difference is likely to be small.

You may not use the short method if either of the following applies:

- 1) you made any estimated tax payments late, or,
- 2) you use the annualized income installment method.

Line 17 — Enter the total of New York State, New York City and Yonkers estimated taxes paid.

Line 21 — If the underpayment on line 19 was paid before April 15, 2006, figure the number of days the payment was made before April 15, 2006, and enter it in the computation for line 21.

Example: If the line 19 underpayment of $2,050 was paid April 8, 2006, you would compute the figure for line 21 as follows: $2,050 (amount on line 19) x 7 (number of days before April 15, 2006) x .00021 = $3.01.

Part 3 — Regular method

Schedule A — Figuring your underpayment

Line 23 — Enter on line 23, columns A through D, the amount of your required installment for the due date shown in each column heading. For most taxpayers, this is the amount shown on line 15 divided by four.

However, it may be to your benefit to figure your required installments by using the annualized income installment method explained below.

Annualized income installment method

If your income varied during the year because, for example, you received unexpected or seasonal income not subject to withholding in April or later, complete Worksheet 1 — Annualized income installment — New York State (and, if applicable, Worksheets 2 and 3), starting on page 6 of these instructions. If you use Worksheet 1 (and Worksheets 2 and 3, if applicable) for any payment due date, you must use it for all payment due dates. To arrive at the amount of each required installment, the worksheet automatically selects the smaller of the annualized income installment or the regular installment (increased by the amount saved by using the annualized income installment method in figuring earlier installments). Attach a copy of the worksheet(s) to Form IT-2105.9.

Line 24 — Enter the total of New York State, New York City and Yonkers estimated taxes paid and tax withheld for each period. If you worked all year, figure even payments of income tax withheld by dividing the total amount withheld by four, and include the result in each column.

Instead of making the estimated tax payment due January 17, 2006, you can file your return and pay all the tax due by January 31, 2006. If you do this, enter the amount of tax you pay with your return on line 24, column D.

Line 25 — Enter any overpayment (or underpayment) from the prior payment period.

Line 26 — In column A, enter the amount from line 24. In the other columns, if line 25 is an overpayment, add lines 24 and 25.

If line 25 is an underpayment, subtract line 25 from line 24.

Line 27 — If line 23 is greater than line 26, subtract line 26 from line 23. The result is an underpayment that should also be entered on line 28 for the same payment due date and on line 25 for the next payment due date. If line 26 is greater than line 23, subtract line 23 from line 26. The result is an overpayment that should also be entered on line 25 for the next payment due date.

If line 26 is a negative amount, your total underpayment at line 27 is the installment due at line 23 plus the line 26 amount.

Schedule B — Figuring the penalty

Figure the penalty by applying the applicable rate against each underpayment shown on line 28. The penalty is figured for the number of days that the underpayment remained unpaid or to the next payment due date, whichever is earlier.

The rates are established at various times through the year. During 2005, there were two rates in effect over four periods.

Lines 29 through 36 are used to compute the portion of the penalty attributable to different installment periods. For example, lines 29 and 30 are used to figure the penalty for the first installment period at 7%. The factor .01169 at line 29 is used to compute the penalty for the first installment if payment is made on June 15. If payment is made before June 15, figure the factor using the number of days the underpayment remained unpaid for the first installment. Line 30 is used to compute the actual penalty amount by multiplying the underpayment by the factor.

Read through the instructions and examples for lines 29 through 36 before completing Part 3, Schedule B.

List your payments for 2005

Before beginning to figure your penalty in Part 3, Schedule B, it will be helpful to organize and list the payments you made for 2005 in the manner presented in the tables below.

In each table, list only the payments made during the dates shown in that table heading. Also apply the following rules:

- 1) Any New York State income tax withheld should be included. You are considered to have paid one-fourth of these amounts on each payment due date, unless you can show otherwise.

For example, if you have New York State income tax of $4,000 withheld from your wages during the year, you would list $1,000 as being paid on June 15, 2005, September 15, 2005, and January 15, 2006, in the applicable table. You would not list the withholding attributable to the first payment due date (April 15, 2005).

- 2) For Table 4, any income tax balance due that you pay with your tax return is considered a payment for this purpose and should be listed. Use the date you file your return as the payment date, unless you file late. In that case, use April 15, 2006.

Table 1 — Payments after April 15, 2005, through June 15, 2005

a Date	b Payments

Table 2 — Payments after June 15, 2005, through September 15, 2005

a Date	b Payments

Table 3 — Payments after September 15, 2005, through January 15, 2006

a Date	b Payments

Table 4 — Payments after January 15, 2006, through April 15, 2006

a Date	b Payments

The following instructions will lead you through the procedures for figuring the penalty in Part 3, Schedule B.

Complete only those lines from line 29 through 36 for periods in which there are underpayments.

First installment — column A, lines 29 and 30

Line 29 — Enter on line 29, column A, the factor .01169 if no payment was made before June 15, 2005. If a payment(s) was made before June 15, 2005, compute the number of days from April 15, 2005, to the date the payment was made and divide by 365. Then multiply the result by the interest rate shown to arrive at the factor to enter on line 29.

Line 30 — Compute line 30 by multiplying the underpayment on line 28 by the factor on line 29.

Example 1: Assume you had an underpayment on line 28, column A, of $5,000 and that you had no payments listed in Table 1 above. Because the underpayment remained unpaid for the entire first installment period (61 days), you would compute the penalty on the underpayment using the factor shown and enter .01169 on line 29. You would enter $58.45 ($5,000 x .01169) on line 30.

Note: When computing the number of days to be divided by 365, carry the result to four decimal places but when arriving at the factor, carry the result to five decimal places and do not round off in either calculation.

Example: $85 \div 365 = .2328 \times 6\% = .01396$

If there is a payment listed in Table 1, on a separate sheet of paper apply the payment to the underpayment shown on line 28. The underpayment for the computation on line 30 will be the amount of the payment that you applied to the line 28 underpayment. If the payment is more than the underpayment, apply only an amount equal to the underpayment and use that amount for the line 30 computation.

If there are no payments listed in Table 1, the underpayment is the entire underpayment balance shown on line 28, column A, because the entire underpayment would have been unpaid for the whole installment period.

Example 2: Assume you had an underpayment on line 28, column A, of $5,000 and that your first payment in Table 1 was made on May 6, 2005, in the amount of $5,000. You would figure the penalty on the underpayment by computing the factor as follows: $21/365$ (21 is the number of days from 4/15 to 5/6) times 7% equals .00402. Enter .00402 on line 29. You would enter $20.10 ($$5,000 \times .00402$) on line 30.

If there are additional payments listed in Table 1 and the first payment was not enough to reduce the underpayment to zero, you must make a separate computation for each payment listed until the underpayment is reduced to zero. If there is still an underpayment balance after applying all of the payments, you must figure the penalty on the balance of the underpayment in the same manner as explained in Example 3 below.

Example 3: Assume you had an underpayment on line 28, column A, of $5,000 and that your first payment in Table 1 was made on April 25, 2005, in the amount of $3,000. Because the payment did not reduce the underpayment to zero, you would figure the penalty on the underpayment by computing the factors as follows:

$10/365$ (10 is the number of days from 4/15 to 4/25) times 7% equals .00191. Enter .00191 on line 29; as there are no other payments listed in Table 1 you would have a second computation to figure the factor on the remaining underpayment of $2,000 as follows: enter .01169 (factor for period 4/15 to 6/15) on line 29. You would enter $5.73 ($$3,000 \times .00191$) and $23.38 ($$2,000 \times .01169$) on line 30.

Columns B through D

In columns B through D, figure the penalty on any underpayment shown on line 28. Figure the penalty for each period in the same manner as in column A.

Second installment — column B, lines 31 and 32

Line 31 — Enter on line 31, column B, the factor .01764 if no payment was made before September 15, 2005. If a payment(s) was made after June 15, 2005, but before September 15, 2005, compute the number of days from June 15, 2005, to the date the payment was made and divide by 365. Then multiply the result by the interest rate to arrive at the factor to enter on line 31.

Line 32 — Compute line 32 by multiplying the underpayment on line 28 by the factor on line 31.

Third installment — column C, lines 33 and 34

Line 33 — Enter on line 33, column C, the factor .02631 if no payment was made before January 15, 2006. If a payment(s) was made after September 15, 2005, but before January 15, 2006, compute the number of days from September 15, 2005 to the date the payment was made and divide by 365. Then multiply the result by the interest rate to arrive at the factor to enter on line 33.

Line 34 — Compute line 34 by multiplying the underpayment on line 28 by the factor on line 33.

Fourth installment — column D, lines 35 and 36

Line 35 — Enter on line 35, column D, the factor .01972 if no payment was made before April 15, 2006. If a payment(s) was made after January 15, 2006, but before April 15, 2006, compute the number of days from January 15, 2006, to the date the payment was made and divide by 365. Then multiply the result by the interest rate to arrive at the factor to enter on line 35.

Line 36 — Compute line 36 by multiplying the underpayment on line 28 by the factor on line 35.

Worksheet 1 — Annualized income installment — New York State

Line 1 — Attach a schedule showing how you figured your New York adjusted gross income for each period.

Line 11 — Resident individuals figure the tax on the amount on line 10, using the tax computation (tax rate schedules and tax computation worksheets) in the combined instructions for Form IT-150/IT-201. (Note: When using the tax computation worksheets in the combined instructions for Form IT-150/IT-201, any reference to New York adjusted gross income or New York taxable income should be read to mean your annualized New York adjusted gross income or your annualized New York taxable income entered on Form IT-2105.9-I, Worksheet 1, for the particular period for which you are figuring your tax.) Resident estates and trusts figure the tax on the amount on line 10, using the tax computation worksheet in the instructions for Form IT-205. (Note: When using the tax computation worksheets in the instructions for Form IT-205, any reference to New York adjusted gross income or New York taxable income should be read to mean the estate's or trust's annualized New York adjusted gross income or the estate's or trust's annualized New York taxable income entered on Form IT-2105.9-I, Worksheet 1, for the particular period for which the tax is being figured.)

(Note: When using the tax computation worksheets in the instructions for Form IT-203, any reference to New York adjusted gross income or New York taxable income should be read to mean your annualized New York adjusted gross income or your annualized New York taxable income entered on Form IT-2105.9-I, Worksheet 1, for the particular period for which you are figuring your tax.) Nonresident estates and trusts and part-year resident trusts figure the tax on the amount on line 10, using the tax computation worksheet in the instructions for Form IT-205-A. (Note: When using the tax computation worksheets in the instructions for Form IT-205-A, any reference to New York adjusted gross income or New York taxable income should be read to mean the estate's or trust's annualized New York adjusted gross income or the estate's or trust's annualized New York taxable income entered on Form IT-2105.9-I, Worksheet 1, for the particular period for which the tax is being figured.)

Line 11d — Nonresident and part-year resident individuals

Compute your income percentage for each period (if applicable) by dividing the New York adjusted gross income amount from Form IT-203, line 31, New York State amount column, by the New York adjusted gross income from Form IT-203, line 31, Federal amount column, using only the income earned for that period.

Nonresident estates and trusts and part-year resident trusts

Complete the Income percentage worksheet A below.

Income percentage worksheet A
1	Enter the amount from Form IT-205-A, line 22, column b, for the period shown 1. _____
2	Enter the portion of any administration costs, income distribution deduction, exemption and other deductions used in determining federal adjusted gross income that relate to items of income, gain, loss and deduction derived from or connected with New York sources, for the period shown 2. _____
3	Subtract line 2 from line 1 3. _____
4	Enter the amount from Form IT-205-A, line 7, column a that relates to New York source income for the period shown 4. _____
5	Enter the amount from Form IT-205-A, line 9, column a that relates to New York source income for the period shown 5. _____
6	Line 4 and add or subtract line 5 6. _____
7	Balance: line 3 and add or subtract line 6 7. _____
8	Divide line 7 above by the amount from Form IT-205-A-I, page 1, NYAGI Worksheet, line 5, for the period shown. Enter here and on Worksheet 1, line 11d on page 6 8. _____

Line 12 — Credits that are based wholly or partly on income are figured on the annualized income for each period.

Example 4: You are single and qualified to claim the household credit. Your New York adjusted gross income (line 1) for the period January 1, 2005, through March 31, 2005, is $5,000. You would use the annualized amount on Worksheet 1, line 3 ($20,000) when figuring your household credit.

Other credits that should be figured on an annualized basis are the resident credit, child and dependent care credit, New York State earned income credit, farmers' school tax credit, New York City school tax credit, New York City earned income credit, and real property tax credit. Credits that are not based on income are figured by applying the 2005 credit rate to the amount of the expenditure paid or incurred during the period. An example of this is the investment credit.

Line 14 — Enter in each column the total amount of other New York State taxes reported on Form IT-201, line 45; Form IT-203, line 49; or Form IT-205, lines 12 and 13. Except for the minimum tax, you do not have to annualize these taxes. Use Form IT-220, Minimum Income Tax, as a guide in figuring this tax. Figure your total New York tax preference items based upon the income and deductions during the period shown in the column headings of this worksheet. Multiply the total New York tax preference items by the annualization amounts on line 2 of this worksheet and then deduct the specific deduction allowed on Form IT-220.
