Introduction

Article 29 of the Tax Law authorizes counties, cities and some school districts to impose a local sales tax as a complement to the statewide tax. This report presents statistical information on taxable sales and purchases subject to the county or the New York City (NYC) sales tax. Taxable sales include nearly all retail sales of tangible personal property and certain services. Taxable purchases represent the value of tangible personal property or services purchased for use in business operations (which would otherwise be subject to tax) on which no sales tax was previously paid.

To make the taxable sales and purchases report more useful to our data users, this publication incorporates several changes to the previous reporting format:

- Presentation of taxable sales and purchases data for two consecutive annual selling periods (March through February), instead of three semiannual selling periods. Included with this new format is a computation of the percent change in taxable sales and purchases from the prior year.
- Presentation of the data by the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) codes instead of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) codes. Implementation of this change increases the number of industry sectors in the report from eight to thirteen, resulting in a more detailed breakdown of taxable sales and purchases by industry.
- Presentation of county sales tax data by the state tax base and a separate presentation of county sales tax data by the local tax base for the following items eligible for state tax exemption:
  - Clothing and footwear not exempt from local sales tax during the sales tax exemption weeks,
  - Consumers' utility and fuel taxes for residential energy,

- Fuel and utility services and farming services (New York City only),
  - Other NYC services (parking services, hotel room occupancy services, cleaning and maintenance services, credit rating and reporting services, miscellaneous personal services, protective and detective services, interior decorating and design services), and
  - Services to tangible personal property used in production (expired February 1, 2000).

Unless separately stated, the statistical tables and figures in this publication are based on both the state and local tax base.

- Presentation of historical annual taxable sales and purchases by NAICS code for sales tax years ending in February 1997 and February 1998. These tables are provided to give users a basis for comparing current sales tax data with prior year data that was originally released using SIC codes.

Data presented herein are derived from vendor and purchaser information reported on New York State sales tax returns. This publication presents (1) five year statewide annual trends, (2) state and local tax base trends for the two most recent annual selling periods, (3) regional trends, (4) sales tax activity by industry for New York City and counties outside the City and (5) and historical data for sales tax years 1997 and 1998. Each county data table also contains annual state and local base sales tax information by industrial classification for the most recent two years. Data for the March 1998 through February 1999 selling period are revised from the last report. Information for the March 1999 through February 2000 selling period is preliminary and will be revised in our next report. While preliminary data for the March 1999 through February 2000 selling period was originally issued in January 2002, changes in our data analysis methodology have greatly improved the quality of data gathered and warranted the reissuance of the March 1998-February 1999 and the March 1999-February 2000 data.

Recent legislation provided counties the option of exempting some clothing and footwear sales from local sales tax during the September 1998 through February 1999 and the September 1999 through February 2000 semiannual selling periods. During the weeks of September 1-7, 1998, January 17-24, 1999, September 1-7, 1999, and

January 15-21, 2000, clothing and footwear that sold for less than $500 was exempt from tax in counties that chose the exemption. The majority of counties elected to participate in the temporary clothing exemption program.

The tables in Appendix D also contain data impacted by temporary clothing exemption weeks. During the weeks of January 18-24, 1997, and January 17-23, 1998, clothing and footwear selling for less than $500 were exempt from tax in counties that elected to participate in the clothing exemption program. During the week of September 1-7, 1997, the exemption was limited to the first $100 spent on clothing items only.

On March 1, 2000, the State's permanent tax exemption for clothing items and footwear costing less than $110 went into effect. The data for the first year of the permanent clothing exemption will appear in the next taxable sales and purchases report.

Annual Sales and Purchases

Table 1 summarizes annual sales and purchases subject to use tax for all New York counties during the past five years for the state and local tax base. During this period, annual sales grew each year when compared with sales reported for the previous year. Preliminary data for March 1999 through February 2000 indicates that reported sales grew to $206.9 billion, a 9.1 percent improvement from the previous year.

Figure 1 depicts that the March 1999 - February 2000 selling period continued the upward trend of annual sales that has been underway since the March 1995 through February 1996 selling period. As a result, total taxable sales and purchases now stand 25.2 percent higher than the value posted five years ago.

Industry Analysis

Table 2 provides a look at statewide annual state tax base industry totals. Taxable sales and purchases for the September 1999 through February 2000 annual selling period reached $198 billion. This amount exceeds the total reported for the previous year's comparable twelve-month selling period by 9.0 percent ($16.4 billion).

Statewide, all of the major industries realized year-over-year growth for the latest annual selling period. The most significant increases were in the arts, entertainment, and recreation industry (12.9 percent) and the professional, scientific, and technical industry (12.2 percent). Percentage increases for the remaining major industry groups ranged from 4.6 percent in the manufacturing industry to 10 percent in retail trade.

Retail sales continue to account for 50.6 percent of state tax base taxable sales and purchases, contributing $100.1 billion to the statewide total. During this most current selling period, retail sales rose 10 percent from the previous year. Within retail sales, health and personal care (23 percent) and nonstore retail (20.4 percent) reported the largest percentage increases in sales. Nonstore retail includes electronic shopping and mail order houses, vending machine operators, fuel dealers, and other direct selling establishments. Percentage increases in the motor vehicles and parts, electronics and appliances, building materials and garden equipment, and gasoline stations categories also exceeded the gain reported for the retail industry as a whole. The 15.8 percent increase in sales at gasoline stations mirrors the 16 percent increase in motor fuel prices from the previous year. The only sector within the retail industry to report a decline from the previous year was miscellaneous retail (-2.3 percent). Included in this sector are florists, office supplies, stationery and gift stores, used merchandise stores and various other miscellaneous store retailers.

Figure 2: Statewide Industry Shares for the State Tax Base in the 3/99 - 2/00 Selling Period

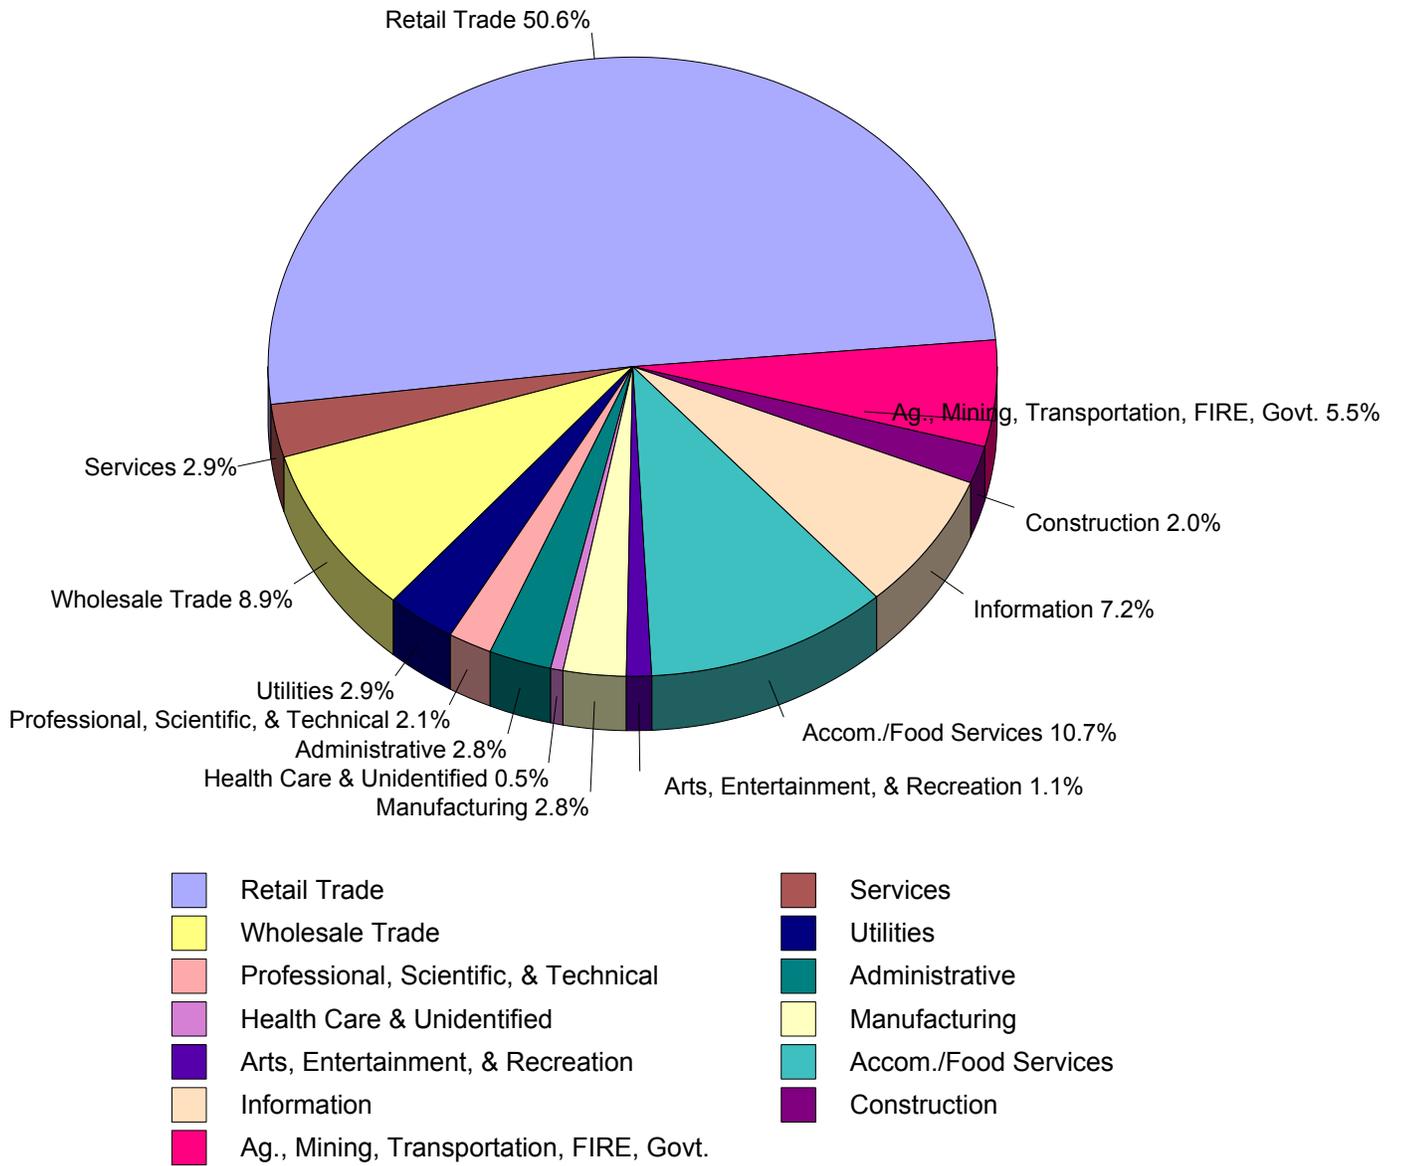

Figure 2 shows the statewide share of taxable sales and purchases contributed by major industry for the state tax base in the latest selling period. Because of the change to the NAICS coding system, the industry distribution has changed from previous reports. Retail trade and accommodations and food services are now the two largest sources of State taxable sales and purchases. Combined, they contribute slightly more than 61 percent of the State total.

Table 3 provides a look at the statewide annual industry totals for the local tax base portion of taxable sales and purchases. These are taxes imposed only at the county or New York City level and are exempt from state tax. Taxable sales and purchases for the March 1999 through February 2000 selling period increased by 10.5 percent. Taxable sales and purchases reported from the 1½ percent sales tax on residential energy contributed 83.6 percent to the statewide local tax base.

Regional Trends

All of the State's counties showed year-over-year gains in taxable sales and purchases. Figure 3 provides a glimpse of regional sales activity. As shown, year-over-year gains were widely dispersed throughout the State.

Table 4 indicates that three counties led the way in reporting double digit growth in total taxable sales and purchases for the March 1999 through February 2000 period as compared to the previous year.

Hamilton, Fulton, and Steuben counties experienced the most significant growth in taxable sales and purchases, reporting gains of 14.4, 13.7 and 13.7 percent, respectively. Hamilton county's most significant gain was in the wholesale trade industry where significant increases were reported in the sales of durable goods, especially during the June-August 1999 quarter. Of the remaining industries, the largest growth occurred in the professional, scientific, and technical (39.1 percent) and the arts, entertainment, and recreation (27.2 percent) industries. Sales in the retail trade industry increased by 10.4 percent, with the most notable percentage gains reported in clothing, electronics and appliances, and building materials and gardening equipment. The only major industry to report any loss was the administrative/support services industry, which fell by 29.6 percent.

Gains reported by the manufacturing, construction, and wholesale trade industries were the major impetus for Fulton county's 13.7 percent increase in taxable sales and purchases. Much of this gain was attributed to increased sales and purchases related to building construction, specifically concrete and fabricated metal products manufacturing and electrical construction sales and purchases, and to increased sales and purchases by machinery, equipment, and supplies wholesalers. The only major identifiable industry to show a decline in sales was the administrative/support services industry (-46.8 percent).

The strongest source of Steuben county's 13.7 percent gain in taxable sales and purchases was due to a reported increase in research-related purchases in the professional, scientific, and technical industry. Construction, wholesale trade, and manufacturing also had growth rates that exceeded the average for all industries in Steuben county. Unlike Hamilton and Fulton counties, all of Steuben county's major industries reported gains over the previous year.

Fourteen other counties also reported double digit gains in taxable sales and purchases, ranging from increases of 10.4 percent to 12.8 percent. Gains in these areas were primarily due to growth in the retail trade industry, with the major impetus being growth in the motor vehicles and parts, gasoline stations, and general merchandise sectors. St. Lawrence county (0.1 percent) was the only county to report a year-over-year increase in aggregate activity of less than 4.7 percent. St. Lawrence county's low growth rate appears to be mainly related to declines in reported sales for the utilities, construction, and agriculture, mining, transportation, finance, insurance, and real estate (FIRE), education, and government industries. The manufacturing industry also experienced a substantial decrease. A more detailed analysis of the data shows that the decline in taxable sales in these industries appears to be a return to more characteristic spending after the increased taxable sales and purchases incurred during the recovery periods following the ice storms in early 1998. Reported taxable sales and purchases for the retail trade industry in St. Lawrence county did increase by 6.5 percent.

New York City

The five New York City counties of the Bronx, Kings, New York (Manhattan), Queens and Richmond represent almost 39.4 percent of all reportable statewide taxable sales and purchases for the latest annual period. New York City's taxable sales continue to grow faster than the State as a whole. Year-over-year, New York City's taxable sales and purchases rose 9.3 percent. Similar to the State's economy, New York City sales have continually expanded since the early 1990's, growing from $61.1 billion in 1995-1996 to $81.5 billion in 1999-2000 (Table 5 and Figure 4).

(In Billions)

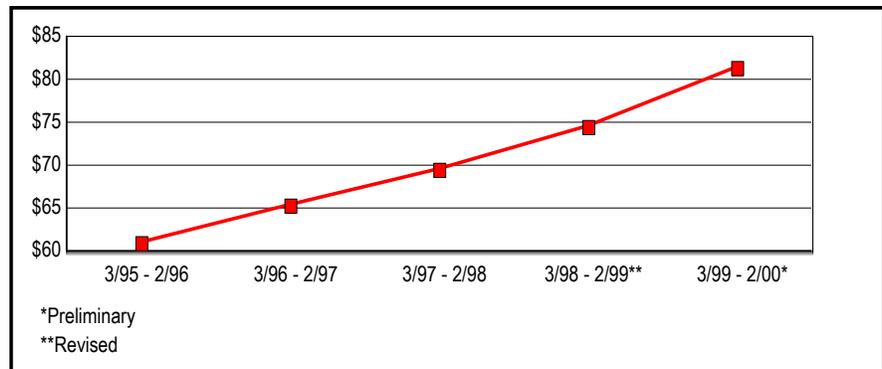

Table 6 summarizes New York City's annual state tax base taxable sales and purchases for the most recent selling period ending February 2000. For that period, sales tax vendors reported $76.7 billion in New York City taxable sales and purchases, an increase of 9.3 percent over the same period one year earlier.

For both the State and City, retail sales provide the largest share of all state base taxable sales and purchases. However, while retail sales represent 50.6 percent of all taxable sales statewide, they represent only 39.0 percent within the City. This disparity reflects the greater importance of taxable services to New York City's sales tax base.

The arts, entertainment, and recreation industry posted the largest percentage increase, rising 28.4 percent from the previous year. Other industries that experienced high growth include the accommodation and food services (11.6 percent) and construction (11.2 percent) industries. Within other services, personal and laundry services reported the largest gain, growing 10.9 percent from the previous year. Gains were also reported for all of the remaining major industries.

Table 7 summarizes the local tax component of New York City's taxable sales and purchases. New York City reports taxable sales for two industries not taxed by New York State or any county. The first industry sector includes 1) fuel and utility services used in the production of property for sale and 2) installation, repair, and maintenance services to property used in farming. (Effective November 1, 2000, only fuel and utilities used in the production of gas, electricity, refrigeration, and steam remain taxable.) The second industry sector includes parking services, hotel room occupancy services, and miscellaneous services (cleaning and maintenance services, credit rating and reporting services, and interior decorating and design services). Taxable sales and purchases reported from the 1½ percent sales tax on residential energy comprise 77.4 percent of New York City's local tax base. New York City opted not to impose a local sales tax on clothing during the temporary clothing exemption weeks.

Counties Outside New York City

Preliminary data indicate that taxable sales and purchases in counties outside New York City reached $125.4 billion for the year ending February 2000 (Table 8). This value represents a 9 percent increase from the previous year and a 20.4 percent increase from sales reported five years ago. As depicted in Figure 5, the five-year trend in taxable sales and purchases reported outside of New York City is similar in direction to the New York City totals.

Analysis of the state tax base industry data presented in Table 9 reveals that the professional, scientific, and technical industry reported the largest gain for major industries from the same period in the previous year, growing by 16 percent. The administrative/support services and retail trade industries also experienced growth exceeding 10 percent. Administrative/support services grew by 10.5 percent, while retail trade reported a gain of 10.3 percent. Within retail trade, sales from the health and personal care sector (30.9 percent) saw the most significant gains. Other retail sectors that showed above average growth in taxable sales and purchases include nonstore retail (19.1 percent), electronics and appliances (18.5 percent), gasoline stations (17.2 percent), motor vehicles and parts (14.5 percent), and building materials and garden equipment (12.2 percent).

Table 10 provides a look at the annual industry totals for the local tax base portion of taxable sales and purchases for counties outside of New York City. Taxable sales and purchases for the March 1999 through February 2000 selling period increased by 13.1 percent. Taxable sales and purchases from the 1½ percent sales tax on residential energy contributed 91 percent to the local tax base for all counties outside of New York City.

Methodology and Data Limitations

The taxable sales and purchases statistics presented in this report come from more than three million data items reported on over three hundred thousand sales tax returns filed each quarter with the New York State Department of Taxation and Finance. The year-ending sales tax quarter that closes on February 28 involves an additional 250,000 returns from taxpayers filing annual returns only. The report aggregates quarterly data into annual periods to dampen fluctuations caused by vendor late reporting, account reconciliation of prior period activities and amended returns.

This report provides a snapshot of a continuously changing sales tax file. File records are updated daily to reflect late and amended returns and corrected return information. A recent analysis of data corrections to the sales tax file indicates that a minimum time period of two years is necessary to generate the data to produce this report. During this period, vendors file their sales tax returns, including amended and late-filed returns. As the returns are filed, the Department has the tax return data entered onto data files, obtains any missing data, checks for data inconsistencies, corrects the data errors and processes the tax payments with the returns. Only after the Department completes this process, will the file records be ready to serve as the data base for preparing this report.

The data in this publication supersedes information included in earlier reports. Although this report includes information for a 12-month period and an annual percent change is computed, special care should be taken when using this percent change. As noted above, sales tax data are subject to continual revision. A significant part of these revisions relates to vendor over- and under- reporting.

This report generally classifies taxable sales and purchases within industrial sectors based on the vendor-reported industry or the industry code identified on the vendor registration form. These codes, from the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS), are listed with their corresponding numerical ranges in Appendix A.

Classification problems arise when vendors inadvertently misclassify or fail to identify their primary business activity. For example, a wholesaler who also conducts retail sales may not understand to classify the primary business as wholesale trade. Misclassification problems are nearly impossible to remedy.

Some counties tax both residential and nonresidential energy sales. However, New York State and a number of counties that are listed in Appendix B, do not tax residential energy sales. In an effort to present a more accurate representation of the state's taxable sales and purchases base for each county, residential energy sales, local clothing taxable sales that were exempt from state tax during the temporary clothing exemption program, and any other local-based taxable sales and purchases that are exempt from state tax are no longer combined with the state taxable sales and purchases base. Instead, they are presented in a separate table for the local tax base.

Appendix C shows combined State and local sales tax rates in each county and identifies changes that occurred during the most recent reporting period. These data are presented for informational purposes.

Appendix D provides annual sales tax data by NAICS code for sales tax years March 1996-February 1997 and March 1997-February 1998.

Data users are cautioned that industry taxable sales may represent only a portion of industry gross sales. Moreover, the percent of sales that are taxable can vary from period to period. As such, taxable sales may not directly reflect the correct level or trend in aggregate economic activity for the industry.
